To celebrate the launch of its new state-of-the-art walking shoe, the Levanto XCR, brasher are offering you the chance to visit the place that inspired its design

Walk on the wild side

Everyone likes to get away from it all from time to time; it's the way we choose to escape the madness that varies. For some, leaving it all behind means a weekend on the tiles in Ibiza, or perhaps a fortnight lying prostrate on a Corsican beach. But anyone who has taken to the hills, absorbed the rangy vistas and inhaled some clean, fresh, mountain air knows that nothing quashes the strains of everyday life quite like trailwalking.

Even if you think your natural inclinations are more Pacha than pac-a-mac, it's worth reminding yourself that the Great Outdoors has come a long way since the days of long johns and clodhoppers. Take brasher's new Levanto XCR multi-activity shoe, for example. For almost 30 years the brand has been synonymous with comfortable yet hardwearing walking boots, but with its lightweight fabric and innovative design the Levanto XCR reinforces brasher's original reputation as a pioneer of performance footwear. Rain or shine, it's a shoe you'll feel as comfortable wearing on the outdoor trail as you would in the bar afterwards for a well-earned drink.

To celebrate the launch of this versatile new shoe, brasher is offering a lucky MH reader the exciting opportunity to win a five day trailwalking holiday for two in the stunning Cinque Terre region on the Italian Riviera. Incorporating some of Europe's finest coastal walking, complete with sublime mountain ranges and breathtaking seaside panoramas, the winner will also receive £500 spending money and two pairs of brasher Levanto XCRs with which to enjoy the ultimate adventure playground. For those who prefer to unwind with a walk on the wild side, there's no better opportunity. Why choose between style and substance when you can have both?
