

Is it one thing?
Or is it many?

There's a thing in my pocket but it's not one thing it's many.

It's the same as other things but exactly like nothing else.

It has an eye and an ear that share what billions hear and see.

It's not a living thing but if you feed it, it will grow.

It can speak a thousand words but has no voice.

It can rally the masses, it can silence the crowd.

It can find you the places so you can get lost.

It can go out and get without going out.

And, it can let others feel what you've just been touched by.

There's a thing in my pocket
but it's not one thing
it's many
