

A GOOD TIME TO SIGN UP NOW

The world's not so rigid anymore and now that applies to your mobile phone. You don't need to choose a set amount of minutes and texts anymore. Thanks to Flex from T-Mobile you can find a plan that constantly adapts to you, month in, month out

A PHONE PLAN THAT FITS

Flex is all about adapting to your needs and not asking you to conform to ours. We recognise that everyone is different and that situations inevitably alter, so Flex is designed with that in mind. To us, it's practical common sense that you can't expect an off-the-peg model to accommodate all. Like a tailored suit, Flex is cut to fit.

Life is constantly changing and as part of that our phone plan needs to as well. You may spend all month texting and the next just calling – regardless of how you use your phone, Flex constantly adapts to you. The benefit of this is that each and every month Flex is superb value for money. A £35 Flex tariff, for instance, will buy you a monthly allowance of £180 to spend on any combination of call minutes, texts, voicemail retrieval and picture messages you choose.

So whatever your needs, be it a mobile network that adapts to the way you live your life or a simple price plan that puts your own financial interests first, Flex delivers. We believe that you should be able to use your phone the way you want to. Just pop into a local T-Mobile shop to find out more.

With Flex from T-Mobile the world's not so rigid anymore.
