

RULE 2

You will always be kept in the dark as to how many call minutes and texts you have left. But no longer, because with Flex from T-Mobile the world's not so rigid anymore

RULE 3

Once you have used up your minutes and text allowance, further costs will rocket. But no longer, because with Flex from T-Mobile the world's not so rigid anymore

WITH FLEXT YOU GET CONSISTENT PRICES

So you've used up more minutes than you intended this month. Why shouldn't you? You're only human. But that doesn't mean you should expect to be penalised for it when your bill arrives. With Flex from T-Mobile you've now got a reason to keep talking

TIME IS PRECIOUS

We've all done it. It's the end of the month and you're scanning your mobile bill to see why it's more expensive than you thought it should be. And then, after sifting through a continuous row of noughts, you see it: the phone calls you made after you had exceeded the number of inclusive minutes on your plan.

Thanks to Flex you can benefit from great low run on-rates. With Flex you don't have to follow rigid guidelines when it comes to the way in which you want to use your phone. Calls are at a great rate of just 20p per min, voicemail retrieval and texts are just 10p and picture messages only 20p per message. Flex acknowledges that circumstances can alter. So if you happen to run over your allowance, we simply charge you the same great rates that you've been paying all along. You no longer need to worry about complicated rates for using your phone; thanks to Flex from T-Mobile you just benefit from great rates.

It's a phone plan for you.